****Von lenkalotteI like Radclyffe, she's written some awesome novels within the romance genre that deliver what the genre sets out to do. There were some that didn't convince me so much, more so lately. But I could not not buy it since I think Radclyffe is at her best when writing about doctors. She knows the job so well that the writing just flows and the situations are believable. Matched with interesting characters you can't really beat that. Night Call had the additional bonus that it promised more of Honor and Quinn, the main characters from Fated Love. I enjoy series because they manage to transcend the natural limits of romances, namely stop when people get together. I rather enjoy reading about how it continues, the mundane daily life. Add to that two new fascinating characters and you've got the making of an engaging romance. There's Tristan, an anesthesiologist, not big on relationships, and Jett, pilot for the hospital's helicopter, ex-soldier who was stationed in Iraq and is dealing with that. She's the more complex character of the two, in my opinion, flashbacks to her time in Iraq give insight into daily soldier life and the suckage that is 'don't ask don't tell'. This backstory makes Jett a very convincing character. Tristan could have been a bit more fleshed out, but she's still a well-developed character. Contrasting the new characters with the established relationship of Honor and Quinn and a little bit of Linda and Robin works very well, and the fast-paced hospital environment means there's not a boring minute in this novel. It's like the beginning of a story about a community, a bit like a non-comic Dykes to Watch Out For. I have no idea if further forays into this universe are planned, but I'd be all for it.

Mir gefällt die Idee der Charaktere gut oder wenigstens der Charakter "Jett" gefällt mir, da wre so viel mehr drin gewesen. "Tristan" dagegen ist blass und ihre wahren Beweggrnde werden irgendwie nicht so ganz klar... Letztendlich lt es sich drastisch gesprochen auf folgende Punkte reduzieren und genau deswegen wollte sich bei weder Stimmung noch Neugier einstellen: 1. Jett benutzt und benutzte Sex um sich von all dem Leid abzulenken, dass sie bei ihren Einsätzen als Hubschrauberpilotin in Kriegsgebieten erleben muss. "Don't ask, don't tell" hat ihr zuzätzlich einen Knacks verpat... 2. Tristan "vgelt sich durch die Gegend"... ja, hm... warum eigentlich? Langeweile? Bindungsangst? Man wei es nicht. 3. Die beiden treffen aufeinander und... na, was ist wohl ihr erstes Interesse aneinander (neben ein bisschen "vielleicht mgen wir uns doch mehr")? Soweit so gut, ich habe mich zum Ende hin mehr oder weniger durchgeklickt. Selbst die Stellen, die spannend htten werden knnen, fand ich de. Ich htte mehr ber Jett erfahren wollen und mehr Konflikte gesprtt und mehr "Trauma". Tristan ist bla und irgendwie wei ich mit ihr nichts anzufangen. Und was mir schluendlich ne Nummer zu viel wahr (was ich schon mal an Radclyffe kritisiert habe). Sex! Man verliebt sich nicht. Man will Sex... h? Ich lebe ja nicht hinterm Mond, aber hier hatte ich das erste Mal das Gefhl, ich lese echt ein Porno. Und das ist nicht meins, sofern nicht eine ordentliche Geschichte dabei ist. Und die habe ich hier vermisst. Honor/Quinn und Linda/Robin htte man sich sparen knnen, denn es fgt der Geschichte nichts an Inhalt hinzu. Ich finde hier sind viele Mglichkeiten vergeben worden, leider... Warum 2 Sterne? Radclyffe kann einfach verdammt gut schreiben und hier waren wieder eine "Bilder" dabei (in Worten), die ihresgleichen suchen.

Von Sabrina... schafft es Radclyffe mit einer etwas kitschigen aber wunderschnen Geschichte mich zu unterhalten und zu begeistern! Ich habe es sofort nach Erhalt durchgelesen! Ich empfehle es jedem Radclyffe-Fan!... Radclyffe manages to entertain and enthuse me with her kinda cheesy but beautifully written story! I read it at once after unpacking it! I recommend it!

Kurzbeschreibung All medevac helicopter pilot Jett McNally wants to do is fly and forget about the horror and heartbreak she left behind in the Middle East, but anesthesiologist Tristan Holmes has other plans. When Jett comes home from the war and destruction in the Middle East, flying and the adrenaline rush of a crisis are the only things that make her happy, and she volunteers to fly night call where all the action is whenever she can. So maybe once in a while she takes a few chances. Hey, that's life, right? Dr. Tristan Holmes is an expert at two things: high-risk anesthesia and pleasing women. Tristan gave up expecting anything other than a good time from the women in her life long time ago, and casual relationships are the perfect prescription for stress release. She doesn't do relationships, so she can't quite understand why it bothers her when Jett makes it clear she doesn't want one. High-stakes medical drama, life on the edge, and love in the fast lane it's all just routine for Night Call.
