Love can be found where you don't expect it Von Rei Loire The first installment of the story about Dev and Lee is how an gay rights activists is finding the love of his life as he forces a football jock from his college to have his first gay experience and how they both than have to face the problems of being gay in the world of professional football. What makes this story so good is the added part of the problems a professional football player faces to keep his job especially with the secret no one is allowed to find out. This may be a gay story, but the problems both face can easily be converted to any relationship and as sex is a minor part of the story one should shy away from this reading experience.

Kurzbeschreibung Dev is a football player at Forester University, a small liberal arts college where he and his teammates get to strut around and have their pick of the girls on Friday nights. That's as good as it gets until he meets Lee, a fox with a quick wit and an attractive body. Problem is, Lee's not a girl. He's a gay fox, an activist who never dreamed he'd fall for a football player. As their attraction deepens into romance, it's hard enough for them to handle each other, let alone their inquisitive friends, family, and co-workers. And if school is bad, the hyper-masculine world of professional sports that awaits Dev after graduation will be a hundred times worse. Going it alone would make everything easier. If only they could stop fighting long enough to break up. Kyell Gold's fourth novel is a story of relationships, of finding oneself and learning to live with someone else, set in the contemporary fantasy world that was the setting for his acclaimed novel "Waterways." Joint Winner of the 2009 Rainbow Award for Best Gay Novel Winner of the 2009 Ursa Major Award for Best Novel Kurzbeschreibung Dev is a football player at Forester University, a small liberal arts college where he and his teammates get to strut around and have their pick of the girls on Friday nights.
